Chapel Ground-Breaking Scheduled For October 9

Official ground-breaking ceremonies for Loyola's Our Lady of Evergreen Chapel and Auditorium will be held on Sunday, October 9, at 4:00 p. m., it was announced by the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola College.

Presiding at the ceremonies will be His Excellency, the Most Rev. Francis P. Keough, Archbishop of Baltimore.

Dedicated To Veterans

Dedicated to those Loyola men who served in the war, the Chapel will be situated at a joint adjacent to Charles Street and just below the level of the Science Building.

Facing the Faculty House, it will have two entrances, each of which will be on a separate level. The lower-level entrance will lead to the basement auditorium.

Chapel Long Needed

A new chapel at Loyola has long been needed because of the inability of the present chapel to hold the student body, which has gathered in the Gymnasium for First Friday Masses and other religious activities.

Construction has been held in abeyance, however, pending the collection of sufficient funds.

Permission to begin construction was received last July and was announced by Father Talbot at the Ninety-ninth Commencement, held on July 24.

President Addresses Legion Banquet

The Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola College, delivered the invocation and addressed a banquet held by Newspaper Post 144, of the American Legion, at the Park Plaza Hotel on Saturday, September 10.

Father Talbot's address concerned Loyola's appreciation of the trees planted by this post on the campus in honor of Joyce Kilmer. The Joyce Kilmer Post, of New Jersey, attended the tree-planting, some years ago.

Upperclassmen Attend Retreat

Evergreen upperclassmen will commence their school year with a retreat, given by the Rev. James A. Martin, S. J., in the Lower Church at St. Ignatius on Tuesday through Friday, September 21-30.

Attendance at the retreat is obligatory for all Catholic students except those who will be graduated in January, 1950. This excused group must, however, make a special retreat on predetermined dates in December.

Non-Catholics Attend Talks

Non-Catholic students who do not wish to make the retreat are required to attend a series of talks on "A Philosophy of Life," to be given by the Rev. Joseph A. d'Invernizzi, S. J., in Room 201 at 9:30, 11:00 and 1:00 o'clock on all retreat days except Friday.

Included in this group are non-Catholics of the Jan. '50 Class.

Retreat Time Order Given

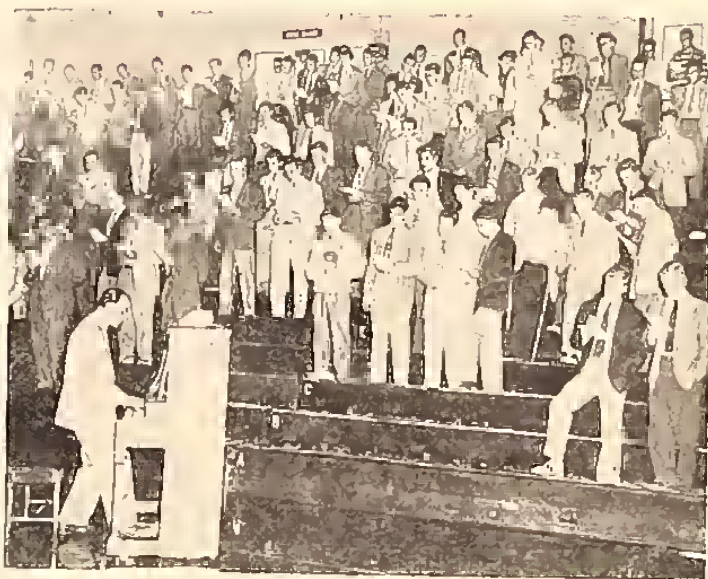

The time order of the retreat is as follows: 8:45, Mass; 10:00, instruction and meditation; 11:00, rosary; 11:30, instruction; 12:00, lunch; 1:15, stations of the Cross; 2:00, instruction, followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Confessions will be heard each day between 12:15 and 1:00 and after the Benediction.

Freshman Retreat Over

Freshmen attended a retreat given by the Rev. Joseph T. Murphy, S. J., at St. Ignatius from Tuesday through Friday of this week.

A series of talks to the non-Catholic students was given by the Rev. William M. Davish, S. J.

Mr. Police Iuhn, Head of the Music Department at Loyola, teaches the new light song "Clear the Way" to the freshmen during one of the assemblies held to familiarize them with Loyola. The orientation period lasted from September 7 to September 12, during which time the incoming class learned School songs and cheers and were addressed by representatives of extracurricular activities.

New Cut System

A student may be absent from a maximum of 12% of his total lecture and/or laboratory hours in each subject during the semester.

This comes to six permissible absences from a course held three times a week, eight from one held four times a week, and ten from one held five times a week.

There are NO excused absences, and all in excess of this 12% maximum will result in the student's failing the over-ent course.

Speech Course Uses 'Movies'

Loyola's Evening School will employ cinematographic methods of speech instruction during its next term, according to Mr. James A. Perrott, head of the Speech Department.

Motion pictures will be taken during students' speeches. The films will then be shown, and the students will be able to see as well as hear themselves, thereby noting their own speaking errors and correcting them.

Loyola First In East

This method, an innovation in the field of speech instruction, has been used successfully in many Western and Midwestern schools.

It has been reported, however, that Loyola is the first Eastern college to employ the new method.

Other New Courses Planned

In addition to this and to a recently inaugurated graduate course in education, classes in journalism will be taught by Mr. Edwin P. Young, City Editor of the Evening Sun.

Mr. Bernard M. McDermott, Director of Probation of the Division for Juvenile Cases of the Circuit Court of Baltimore, will lecture on social legislation.

Other courses include The Papal Encyclicals, Investments and Essentials of Advertising.

Frosh To Vote Next Thursday

Members of the Class of June '53 will select a temporary governing board of seven men in a class election to be held in the cafeteria on Thursday, September 21.

This board will then meet on Friday, September 23, to choose a chairman from among themselves to represent the class on the Student Council.

Required By Constitution

The election is required by Bylaw 10 of the Student Council constitution, which states:

"On Thursday and Friday of the first full week of School temporary Freshman elections will be held. On Thursday, students will elect a board of seven men. On the next day, Friday, this board will elect one of their number as chairman. This chairman will conduct class business and represent the class (Continued on page 3)

Freshman Class Outnumbers Others

Eight hundred eighty-four students, including 246 freshmen—the largest class in the College—registered at Loyola during the week of September 4.

The July '50 Class, comprising 240 seniors, was the second largest. It was followed by the June '52 group, which numbered 219. Considerably smaller were the January '50 and June '51 Classes, with 89 and 90 members, respectively.

B.S.-II Students Predominate

Of the total number of students at Loyola, 326 are working toward B.S. degrees in business administration (B.S.-II), while 290 are striving for B.S. degrees in biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics (B.S.-I).

Next in number is the Ph.B. course, in which 173 Loyolans are enrolled. The A.B. course contains 95 students, a number of whom are majoring in chemistry or biology in preparation for medical school.

Freshmen Undergo Orientation

After registering on Tuesday, September 6, all members of the incoming Class of June '53 underwent a period of orientation that extended from Wednesday, September 7, through Monday, September 12.

During this period the freshmen attended assemblies at which they were greeted and made familiar with Loyola, and taught the School's songs and cheers. On September 12 they were addressed by representatives of all campus activities.

The orientation program has been under the supervision of Dr. William D. Hoyt.

Begin Year With Mass

Loyola students began the scholastic year by attending the Mass of the Holy Ghost at the Baltimore Cathedral on Friday, September 16, at 9:00 a.m.

The Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola, celebrated the Mass.

Activities, Functions Outlined For Students

(THE GREYHOUND, in view of the need of acquainting the freshmen with the various activities at the College, has listed below the principal activities and their functions. For a summary of activities not listed, see pages 66 to 71 of the College catalogue. See page 4 for an organizational chart.)

• Cultural

The ROBERT BELLAMINE DEBATING society trains in the arts of oratory and rhetoric, and conducts intra-society debates to prepare members for future intercollegiate competition. Both the standard and Oregon styles are used. Teams from universities across the country are debated, on the campus and in other cities. Mr. James A. Perrott is Moderator, and Edward O. Clarke president.

The INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS club studies problems of international diplomacy and helps members keep abreast of current developments. Dr. Harry Kirwin is Moderator, and Edward Stehle is president. The HISTORY ACADEMY, moderated by Dr. William D. Hoyt, specializes in the intensive study of historical factors too detailed to be adequately covered in the scholastic curriculum. Members prepare and read papers at meetings, usually held off campus. John Hull is president. The CLASSICS ACADEMY enlists students particularly interested in the Latin and Greek writings. Moderator is Dr. John V. Walsh. There is a PHILOSOPHY and a CREATIVE WRITING SEMINAR, both of which meet irregularly.

The Debating Society also sponsors the annual Lee Oratorical Contest, open to all students for the competitive delivery of original or other speeches. A medal is awarded the winner. The Society also conducts the Jenkins prize debate each year. Loyola has two honorary fraternities: the ALPHA SIGMA NU, and the forensic TAU KAPPA ALPHA. Membership is by invitation, based on service and scholarship, as well as speaking ability in TKA.

• Cosmopolitan Club

Students from out of Baltimore county are automatically eligible to join the COSMOPOLITAN CLUB. The club will represent their unique requirements on the Student Council. Mr. Vincent Collamore is Moderator, and Andy O'Donnell has been president.

• Dramatic

The Mask and Rapier's tentative plans include the annual Loyola Night on November 11, a stylized production of The History of Old Wang in February, a Passion Week production in April, and a fourth production in May. Plans also include basic training in dramatic techniques, monthly socials and frequent meetings. Dramatic Awards are made to all members who participate in three or more productions. Rev. Leo G. Monaghan, S. J. is Moderator, and George A. Herman is president.

• Literary

THE GREYHOUND is published by and for students, and appears every two weeks, with a circulation of over 4,000. Maintaining a constant All-American honor rating, the staff willingly trains new members in all phases. Photographers are especially needed. The Evergreen Quarterly contains short stories, poems and articles by students and guest contributors, edited by an all-student staff.

• Scientific

There are five clubs active in various branches of physical and social science. Members are usually majors in the subject with which the club is engaged. The CHEMISTRY CLUB is directed by the Rev. Edward S. Hauber, S. J.

Francis J. Sullivan is Moderator of the ACADEMY OF ACCOUNTING AND COMMERCE. Investigations into accounting opportunities and addresses by laymen experts are incorporated into club activities.

The Reverend Joseph S. Didusch, S. J., is Moderator of the MENDEL CLUB. Walt Smyth is president. A program of dates on which members will deliver papers is issued by the club, and also listed in THE GREYHOUND.

One of the oldest clubs is the ANGELO SECCO ACADEMY. The Reverend John P. Delaney, S. J., is Moderator and Daniel Rochowski, president. The Academy meets twice monthly to hear papers delivered by members or guests, and goes on occasional field trips.

The MATH CLUB Moderator is Walter S. Dawkins, and John J. Coyne is president. Prominent figures in the mathematics field are asked to address the members periodically.

Upperclassmen Thomas Cole, Edward Frederick, William Cronin and George Frank wait through their registration paperwork, while John Corcoran and John Cronin wait their turn. A few post cards sent by the Registrar's office informing of official dates went astray, causing some to check in later than planned. Many undergraduates will round out their schedules this spring, during the last extra term.

ALUMNI DOINGS

By Edward A. Doehler, '30

Activities Planned

The calendar of Alumni activities is beginning to take shape as the academic year begins. The Association was called together in a special General Meeting on September 16 to act on the matter of a new constitution. A special committee under the chairmanship of Lugard I. Whiteford and including Isaac S. George and Anselm Sodaro presented a draft constitution which was revised and adopted by the membership at the meeting on the 16th. On Wednesday, September 21, the Nominating Committee of the Association met at Evergreen under the chairmanship of A. Berthold Hoen, '18, to draw up a slate of nominees to be presented to the membership at the regular meeting of the association. Members will be able to present other nominees on the occasion of the meeting. Dues-paying members in good standing are eligible for office. Prior to the annual meeting, there will be one more meeting of the Executive Committee which has been called for Friday, September 30, in the Faculty Building at Evergreen. The annual meeting for the election of officers will then be held at Evergreen on the evening of October 14.

Alumnus in Law Firm

J. Lacy Bradley, '21, has just announced his new association with the law firm of Fisher and McGulre, with offices in the Court Square Building. The original members of the firm are Morton P. Fisher, graduate of Johns Hopkins and the University of Maryland, and James A. Magulre, graduate of Loyola and the University of Maryland. Both of the original members of the firm held lieutenant colonelcies in the Second World War. J. Lacy Bradley received his A.B. from Loyola in 1921, his M.A. from Loyola in 1924, his C.L.U. from the American College of Life Underwriters in 1944, and his LL.B. from University of Baltimore in 1947. Lacy is a veteran of World War I and has been in the insurance business for twenty-five years.

Student Council Opens Year

Clearing house of all activities, the Student Council held its first meeting of the year yesterday. Elections were held to fill the offices of vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and parliamentarian. Results will be published in the next issue of THE GREYHOUND.

President Emilio Blanco reported on the successful completion of the orientation period for the freshman class, which was directed by Dr. William D. Hoyt, Jr. and Blanco. Leading members of most campus organizations spoke to the new students, explaining, according to custom, the functions of each of their groups.

President Blanco also announced plans to revive the open meeting policy of the council. In order to acquaint undergraduates with the operation of the activities and of the Council, he advocated a return to the one meeting a month which formerly was open to the student body. Other old business which will be disposed of during the year includes the work of a committee on the Faculty-student co-operative questionnaire, advocated by the NSA delegates last year as a means of airing suggestions on pedagogical improvements. The question of one-way travel on the road past the parking lot was raised, and further action will be taken to eliminate the traffic problem on that road.

BS-II Students Hear NAM Head

Prominent Salt Lake City businessman Wallace Bennett, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, addressed the Business Administration students on Monday, September 19. Through arrangement with the Baltimore Association of Commerce, Mr. Bennett spoke about his lifetime experiences as president and director of five Salt Lake institutions.

Elected president of the NAM in December, 1949, Mr. Bennett replaced Morris Sayre. He had previously served in regional posts of the national organization. President of the Bennett Paint and Glass Company, Mr. Bennett is also a Salt Lake City Ford Dealer, head of a jewelry company, vice-president of an investment company and a bank director. He is a native of Utah.

Good Movies

In answer to my opponents there are many shows which I like, and lately Hollywood has been turning out a higher grade of work than ever before. Let's review a few high spots of the summer.

The Champion was a superb production in every aspect. The acting was highlighted by Paul Stewart and Ruth Roman, not to mention Kirk Douglas and Marilyn Maxwell. The restraint in the screenplay was something new in Hollywood writing. This is the best yet.

House of Strangers was a splendid show with a good story, unusual acting and direction, and Edward G. Robinson mellowing a harsh role with fine humor and subtlety. Come To The Stable was above average in many respects, and particularly interesting was the derivation of the romantic ballad Through A Long And Sleepless Night from Gregorian chant. Celeste Holm was tops in this one.

A fourth bright spot during the summer was the debut of one Shari Robinson in You're My Everything. She stole the show and the thunder of what were Shirley Temple's best numbers, and everyone admits that she tops Miss Temple with fancy footwork that certainly equaled Dan Dailey's.

All in all, the Hollywood cameras are meeting the challenge of the foreign market with surprisingly fine work. And what a welcome change.

Smyth New Head Of Mendel Club

Walt Smyth was elected president of the Mendel Club during the first Biology lab session of the term. Rev. Joseph S. Didusch, S. J., announced that other officers chosen by the biology club were Jacques Gunning, vice-president, George Bonarschuh as secretary, Steve Krizan, Treasurer, and Jim Hiser, sergeant-at-arms.

Smyth succeeds Jacob Flaher, recent graduate. According to Fr. Didusch, the club moderator, the past policy of talks by members on biological topics will be continued. The grey booklet listing these lectures and the dates of each will be distributed shortly. The club functions "to foster interest in the science of Biology and Natural History," according to the college catalogue.

STUDENT COUNSELORS, the Rev. John J. Scanlan, S. J., the Rev. Vincent Beatty, S. J., and the Rev. Aloysius R. Mack, S. J., discuss plans for the coordination of campus religious activities. The Rev. Joseph d'Inviillers, S. J., (inset) is chairman of the Counselors.

Student Counselors Help Loyolans Solve Problems

Nearly every college student, at one time or another, is faced with some type of problem. In recognition of this fact and endeavoring to see a solution, Rev. Lawrence J. Kelly, S. J., Provincial of the Md.-N. Y. Jesuit province from 1922 to 1928, directed that a priest be appointed in each college and high school to act as student counselor. As student numbers increased, assistant counselors were appointed.

Duties Threefold

Here at Loyola, the duties of the Counselors are threefold. Rev. Joseph d'Inviillers, S. J., head of Loyola's group, summed up their main duties by stating, "The Student Counselor is supposed to be available at all times so as to afford the student an opportunity to discuss his problems. These difficulties may stem either from the home, religious difficulties, personal problems or scholastic matters." He added, however, that there should be no mistake made in thinking that the Counselors are the sole advisors on the campus, since every faculty member takes an interest in his students as individuals.

The Student Counselor may send for the student to come to him, or he may offer his services to those whom he knows need help. Each year at the beginning of the term every Freshman is given what is called a Religious Classification test. This questionnaire, which does not count in any way against the student, helps determine what deficiencies exist in the individual's knowledge of the Catholic Faith. The questions cover a variety of subjects, including the Sacraments, the Commandments and prayers.

Co-ordinate Activities

Another duty of the Student Counselor is that of coordinating all religious activity on the campus. First Friday Mass, retreats, confessions, and Sodality functions are all part of the program.

To help him with the work of counseling, Fr. d'Inviillers, has three assistants. The Rev. Vincent Beatty, S. J., will counsel the Freshmen of the Science and Business courses; Fr. d'Inviillers, S. J., the Freshmen A. B. and Ph. B. students and all of the Sophomore year. The Rev. Aloysius R. Mack, S. J., will advise the Juniors and the group of January '50 graduates, while the Rev. John J. Scanlan, S. J., takes all other Seniors.

Each Counselor will post on his office door, the location of which is listed elsewhere on this page, the time of office hours. The work of counseling will begin the week of October 3.

News In Brief

William Morrey Romml, ex '52, who finished his Freshman year at Loyola this past June, joined the U. S. Army two days after school closed. The enlistment is for a period of three years, after which Romml will return to Evergreen. At present he is stationed in the M. Tank Battalion, 3rd Armored Division, Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Macle Zito, a '49 graduate of Seton High School on Charles Street, has been employed now for two weeks as new secretary in the President's Office.

Daniel H. Bathon, '43, was recently engaged to Miss Anita Sylbert. Miss Sylbert is a secretary in the Dean's Office. No date has yet been set for the wedding.

Miss Kathleen Gandy has announced her pending marriage to William Landeman. The couple selected November 10, 1949, as the date for the ceremony. Miss Gandy is employed in the Dean's Office.

John Seringer, '50, editor of the literary magazine, has announced that all copy for the next issue of the "Evergreen Quarterly" should be entered by the beginning of October.

Terrence E. Burke, Jan. '48, and Miss Francis Winchell were recently married at St. Mary's Church in Gwynns. Burke is a former editor-in-chief of THE GREYHOUND.

Frank Barrett, Loyola basketball star, is recuperating from an appendectomy.

Freshman Cross-section:

Inquiry Discovers Frosh Differ From '47 'Pups'

According to the ever-present Bureau of Statistics, the change in the height of man since King Arthur's "five-foot" day is rather surprising and foretells a completely new "giant" race in store for mankind. Based on statistics taken from a poll among the incoming freshman class and a similar poll three years ago, the metamorphosis of the typical Loyola College freshman is even more astounding.

Joe College in 1947 was typically six feet tall with chestnut hair and grey eyes predominating. He weighed an average 149 pounds with extremes ranging from 204 to 119. The class was mostly veterans, with a "Godspeed" Certificate in one hand and the GI Bill of Rights in the other. His purpose in coming to college ranged from "a desire to get a better job than my father" to "benefit humanity" in the case of a pre-med student. A little less than one-third of his fellow classmates were married, with children in many cases, and social life outside the home was drastically limited.

But with the returns of a poll recently taken among the incoming freshman class there has been a decided change in the makeup of the typical freshman. He is one inch shorter than the "old-timer" with quite a few exceptions such as Clint Bamberger's "little" brother who dwarfs anyone in the near vicinity. He has brown hair and brown eyes and tips the scale at an average 145 pounds with 27% of the class registering over the 150 pound marker. He comes directly from High School, usually in Maryland; and his purposes in attending Loyola include "a Catholic education," "an earnest desire to meet male companions for a change," and "to get a college education because you can't get a job without one." The incoming frosh is more social, with 31% favoring frequent dances and socials, 15% apparently undecided whether they can get out or not, and a staunch 4% preferring to stay home.

If polls determine the future, to any accurate degree, then Joe Loyola in 1953 will be only five feet nine inches tall, weigh a mere 115 pounds, have brown hair and black eyes, come right from Grammar School to Loyola only "for a change of scenery" and be all out for daily dances and social affairs.

Mrs. McElroy Dies After Illness

Mrs. Mary McElroy, mother of William McElroy of the Campus Shop, died at her home at 4 P. M. on Monday, September 12, after a prolonged illness.

On the following Friday the Requiem Mass for the repose of her soul was said at the Blessed Sacrament Church. Members of the faculty were among those who attended the funeral services. Many of the students found it impossible to be present because of the Mass of the Holy Ghost, which was held at the Cathedral on the same day.

Mr. McElroy has been associated with the Campus Shop for some time. He has also served as coach of the Evergreen track team.

Caps, Ties Distinguish Frosh As Sophs Begin Hazing Ritual

by Thomas J. Gurelly

The lambs are being led to the slaughter and the wolves are hungrily eyeing their prey.

No, it's not the Chicago cattle stockyards, but the preliminary maneuvering of the Freshman hazing system this year at Evergreen.

"I don't care what they say, I'm not going to light anyone's cigarette," said one pup.

"We've still got the jeep and fire extinguishers and we'll use them if we have to," threatened a sophomore.

"You mean you've got two fire extinguishers. Period," said the owner of the jeep.

The new pups have already been issued their caps and ties—strips of green felt closely resembling cloth-cane—and must wear them until they defeat the soph overlords in an athletic contest later this month.

Besides the caps and ties the frosh must not walk on the grass or in the gardens.

Gardens? What Gardens?

Also, under pain of mortal sin, excommunication, and suspension of the privileges which they don't have yet, the pups must wear identification cards with their names and course printed legibly on them.

For the information of the freshmen, the Welcoming Dance is not a stag dance despite the fact that the catalogue makes no mention that they bring dates to this compulsory affair.

Thay, fella.

Freshmen are also warned that the group of hooligans to the north of the Dell are not part of this campus. No regular classes for Loyola students are held in those buildings.

"Now you know what to do. Make sure you do it," said a sophomore. "We don't want any fooling around. Do what we tell you and you'll be all right."

"What's this about tear gas?" asked an inquisitive freshman.

It's Your Decision

There are many unseen facets of college life which are not usually associated with scholastic activity (ping-pong games, broken coke machines, cafeteria lines, etc.). It seems safe to say, therefore, that "college life" is a composite being which comprises varying phases of activity. Perhaps the most important of these phases is organized extra-curricular activity—a worth-while and too often avoided endeavor.

Loyola offers many opportunities for after-class enjoyment and profit. Her many organizations encompass the fields of spiritual, social, athletic, literary and scientific pursuit. To urge a student to enlist his services in extra-curricular activity is a superfluous request to make of an intelligent man. A thinking person sees the need for organized, practical activity.

For the past few years there has been an adequate excuse for apathy towards the campus organizations. Veterans found themselves bound by other, more serious obligations. Many were married and some were forced by circumstances to seek part-time employment. A poll of this year's freshman class has indicated that the age-level of the College freshman has dropped considerably. Consequently, the percentage of obligation-bound students will decrease. This should, and probably will, mean more time for activities. Whether or not this potential advantage will be realized depends upon the individual student. The decision and the profits are his. He cannot complain because of a lack of wide selection, and most will have the time. It resolves itself to a question of accepting or rejecting a potential good. The wise student will make the only decision possible.

Printed below is an organizational chart of College activities to aid the student in comprehending the wide selection and broad scope of the program.

This seems to conflict with:

London Company Issues New Series Of Records

by Richard Coleman

Probably the most important activities in the recording field came about during the summer holidays, when London Records issued its first American series of recordings. By American, I mean the first London Company Recordings to be totally made in this country. For public approval London has presented a Chl guy and his band singing a bit of a corny middle-western tune called Jealous Heart. My only opinion of the recording is that it's selling. The Chl guy is Al Morgan. He sounds like a poor imitation of Morton Downey.

Sinatra and Company has issued a sequel to the tune I'll Never Smile Again. He, a vocal group, celeste and Hugo Winterhalter and his Ork do a good copy of the old tune. The new tune is called If I Love Again. Sinatra actually sounds like the guy who used to sing with Dorsey. The record is nothing short of great except for the fact that it sounds like a copy or parody. To prove this fact, if you'll listen carefully the next time you hear this record, you'll notice the celeste hits the very same phrases as those used in the Dorsey arrangement of I'll Never Smile Again. Regrettably—it's good. Maybe the old days are coming back.

Dorothy Stewart has written a new tune which in my estimation is another Because. The title is Give Me Your Hand. The idea behind the tune is to express in music a proposal of marriage. It's pretty terrific, especially the recording of it done by Mitchell Ayres and his Orchestra with the great big voice of Perry Como putting the words to the music. My being a bit partial to Como makes it a must on my list and record show.

That's all for this time. But will see you down at the Hipp on the 26th of this month. Sure could use your support!

From the Library

Tired reading? Rather look at pictures? After a hard day, browse awhile in the library's Fine Arts section. Knowing the difference between a frieze and a fresco can make a world of difference.

Traveling abroad today, you'd miss much of Europe's pre-war beauty. Henry La Farge recaptures it in Lost Treasures of Europe. "Man's destructive fury against himself and his achievements" is recorded in 400 rare photographs of cultural monuments now in ruins. And Benoit's The Vatican shows what the centuries have salvaged from that fury. Here is world history told in sculpture, painting, tapestry, mosaic, maps, coins, and manuscript. Another history without words is Winter's Kunstgeschichte in Bildern.

Breathe the spirit of a lovely land in Picturesque Greece. Or enjoy Owen Jones's lithographs of the most beautiful Illuminated Books of the Middle Ages. Make a leisurely sweep from Giotto to Grant Wood—in striking color—with A Treasury of Art Masterpieces or Great Paintings in America. All these and more in the library.

Running With The Hounds

by Bob Bourbon

As a rule it isn't customary for a college newspaper to announce a change of staff at the beginning of the school year; on the contrary it is quite near the end of the second semester before any such appointments are made effective. However, such a situation exists in the sports department, coincident with this current issue. Gerry McCormick, who has been Sports Editor since May 13, has found it necessary to resign the post, because of heavier scholastic demands and the strain of extracurricular activities. There are only so many hours in a school day, and Gerry feels that this was his only alternative. His decision must have been a hard one to make and his leaving will be a real loss to the staff.

It's an honor to take over this position which Gerry has vacated, and we certainly shall strive to routine the high standard of sports reporting which has characterized THE GREYHOUND over the years.

No Major Changes In Policy Envisioned

The new year, while bringing with it no major changes in Loyola's athletic policy, nevertheless ushers in a new period, the effects of which will probably be felt as early as the 1950-51 campaign. The veteran era is rapidly drawing to a close. Small schools such as ours had to expand to meet the great numbers of students, mostly G. I., and consequently the coaching staffs had a fairly ample supply of talent from which to choose. With conditions returning to normalcy, however, greater dependence must be placed on the products of our local high schools, meaning a lessening in age and in experience of prospective candidates for varsity squads.

In the Mason-Dixon conference no immediate disadvantage should be felt, because most of the other member colleges will be facing smaller enrollment, and a similar dearth of material.

Outside of the conference is another story.

Institutions like Villanova, LaSalle, the University of Maryland and others, with whom Loyola swaps baskets and foul shots for four months a year, normally have large enrollments and probably won't be affected as acutely as are smaller colleges. In fact, we may run into some difficulty trying to meet the big fellows on the same terms as we have for the past several years.

More Home Basketball Games

Speaking of basketball, authorities in the athletic office reveal that a 25 game schedule has been drawn up for this year's team, an increase of one game over last season. But the number of home contests has jumped to fifteen, as against twelve for last year. All of which means that in recognition of the excellent support extended to the team by students and alumni last year, they are being given more opportunity to see their boys in action at Evergreen this year.

Brown Returns To School

George Brown has returned to school, and this bit of news will assuredly be well received by bill and dale enthusiasts, even though George feels that it may be a while before he is in good enough shape to perform in the style which earned him the respect of his competitors. . . . Mickey Parr, recently graduated Sports Ed of THE GREYHOUND, joins the ranks of Loyola men who are making good on our city newspapers. Mickey acquitted himself admirably this past summer while covering amateur baseball for the Evening Sun. . . . Franny Meagher, erstwhile Athletic Association President, has run into some difficulty in collecting the fifty cent a year Block L dues which are coming payable. "I know it's expensive," says Franny. "But it's worth it!"

Intramural Football

Anyone who participated in the Intramural league last year is advised to look over the new set of rules which have been given out by the office of the league commissioner, and which are printed on another page. All 18 of them, that is, not including penalties and offenses. There is one minor change, though; each team will take the field to do battle with 50% more players than it had at this same time last year.

Several references are made to the privileges enjoyed by the home team, but nothing is said about how the home team is to be distinguished from any other kind of team, or vice versa. Maybe it's whichever gets on the field first. We don't know.

We had planned to have the commissioner throw out the first ball at the formal opening of competition on Monday, October 3, but since Franny Mueller has resigned, we have no commissioner. So, obviously, that is out of the question. As a matter of fact, reports Lefty Reitz, we may not even have a ball to throw out.

Season Book Program Set

As has been the custom in past years, admission to basketball games held in the Loyola gym will be free to all students of the college, it was announced by the Athletic Department this week.

Each student is entitled to a book of coupons which will admit him to home varsity games. This, however, does not include contests held in the Baltimore Coliseum. The period from October 1st to November 15th inclusive has been set as the time during which the books may be secured.

To obtain a book the student must submit a photograph of himself, measuring one and one quarter by one and one half inches, together with his registration card, to the Athletic Office. The picture will then be fastened to a coupon book and presented to the student for his use only, during the basketball season.

Seats in the south stands and a portion of the east stands will be reserved for students making such application. On game evenings tickets will be available to students from 6:30 until 8:15 p.m., at which time all empty seats in the student section will be thrown open to the general public.

Further information concerning ticket sales can be had at the Athletic Office anytime during regular school hours.

The Athletic Office, for the information of the large number of freshmen, is in the basement of the Gymnasium located on the northeast corner of the campus.

Incoming Freshman Class Boasts Wealth Of Talent

As far as can be judged from the registration records, sport seasons will find out for teams many frosh who have won high school letters.

Tommy Lind

Lind Plays N. England Ball, High On Loop Batting List

Tommy Lind, one of Loyola's most versatile athletes, spent a profitable summer performing with the Burlington Cardinals of the Northern Baseball league, which is composed entirely of non-graduate college baseball players.

The husky East-Baltimorean, who wielded a mighty stick for Coach Lefty Reitz's Greyhounds last spring, held down the shortstop position for the Vermont team, and in addition finished second in the league's batting scramble. Lind compiled an enviable .340 mark while engaging in 73 contests.

His return to Baltimore finds Tommy preparing to discharge his duties as a fullback on this fall's Greyhound soccer team, on which he is a key performer.

Above is a post-season photo of last year's Greyhound soccer team. All but two members of this Mason-Dixon Championship squad, which finished the 1948 campaign with 7 wins against 1 loss, are back to ease Coach Blsh Baker's worries as he begins his fourth year of directing Loyola's soccer fortunes.

Veteran Team Greets Baker In First Soccer Workout

Frosh Cagers Begin Basketball Practice

Practices for the 1949-50 Freshman cage squad began last Thursday, September 15, announces Coach Lefty Reitz. Over thirty first-year hopefuls have been working out in sessions which have featured ball handling, wind sprints, and general conditioning exercises.

Commencing his fourth year as soccer mentor, Blsh Baker isn't going out on a limb to do any pre-season boosting for his charges. His silence, however, might be interpreted as a coach's confidence in last year's Mason-Dixon champions.

Since the team has had only a few formal practice sessions, Blsh believes that it's too early to form accurate judgments or give predictions. He's anxious to see how the newcomers will shape up in the team scrimmages.

Circuit Crown Contenders

The Loyola booters, resting on last year's championship record of seven wins against a single defeat, again loom as contenders for the circuit crown.

Captain Nick Kropfelder, outstanding center forward, heads the experienced squad. Other members of the veteran roster include Armando Luzzi, Jim Bullington, Lou Fonte, Duke Kerr, Harry Bullington, Johnny Gants, Tommy Lind, Jim Setelk, John Sandvick, Don Stuehler, Buddy Kauffman, Joe Rehak and George Phillips.

Linz, O'Brien Graduate

Notable by their absence are Hank Linz and Everett O'Brien, senior stars of last season.

The addition of American University and substitution of Seton Hall in place of North Carolina mark the only changes in a schedule lacking easy opponents. North Carolina gave the Hounds their lone setback of the 1948 season by a score of 3-2.

Four All-Marylanders

Included in this group are at least four former All-Maryland performers, three of them lacrosse players. Bill Lentz is the other, a former breaststroke titlist.

Brothers Tom and Charley Wagner received mention on All-Maryland stick squads while playing for Mt. St. Joseph's and Forest Park, respectively, while Frank Potterfield made it in 1948.

Although well-known as a lacrosse player, Tommy Wagner really made his mark as a scholastic hockey player. Twice he was All-Maryland as captain and center for St. Joe.

Lacrosse Boasts 27

Lacrosse boasts 27 newcomers; the eldersmen, 23. Swimming has a following of 20; golf claims eight; tennis, six; and wrestling three. Fencing shows the least enthusiasts, a total of one.

Included in the aggregation of frosh athletes are cagers Ed Doherty, Bob Gular, Ed Kowalewski, Bob Schuler, Jim Kuhn, Ben Lathroum, Ed Kelley and Carmen Maffal.

Track Group Large

First year trackmen include Gene Carney, Joe Paszek, John Cannell, John Eugberg, Vic Kilkowski, John Magee, Bob Robinson, Jim Conlon and Cornelius Hlekey.

Also represented are: swimmers Sid Goldin, Dou Horgan, Bill Lentz and Francis Macek; golfers John Anderson, Julius Pyles and Frank McCoy; lacrossemen Tom Wagner, Joe Countess, Frank Potterfield, Charles Wagner and Bob Adams; soccermen Bill Boone, Dou Reinsfelder, Henry Blumpler and Ben Brewer; pigsknobs Jim Gumulek, John Love and Paul Steinbagen; and baseballers Dave Goetz, Wally Jingen and Joe Kirby, Jr.

The Lineup

Kerr Begins Fourth Year

by Gene Churoy

When the Greyhounds open the defense of their 1948 Mason-Dixon soccer crown on October 16 of this year, playing in one of the halfback spots will be John "Duke" Kerr, a veteran of three years of intercollegiate soccer.

Duke, who was one of the main eogs in Coach Blah Baker's championship squad of last year, is a product of Mount Saint Joseph. It was at this prep school that Duke got his first taste of championship soccer, for in his senior year the Gaels captured the Maryland Scholastic Association soccer title. This was during John's second season of play at the Irvington school.

After being graduated from St. Joe in '44, Kerr served a twenty month hitch in Uncle Sam's Navy. During this period of naval duty, Duke was idle in so far as the English game was concerned.

Enrolled in 1948

Returning from his tour of service, John enrolled in Loyola in September of 1946. That year also marked his first campaign of soccer under the Green and Grey banner.

As soon as the College's scheduled games have been completed for the year, Duke lends his talents to one of the amateur teams in and around the city of Baltimore.

Last season Duke played for the Towson Soccer Club, and during the two previous years, he joined forces with the Little Flower booters.

J. H. U. Game Biggest Thrill

As for the most thrilling game of his six year career, Duke cites last season's game with Johns Hopkins University. It was by virtue of Loyola's 3 to 2 victory over the Jays that the Hounds were able to cop the Mason-Dixon title.

Duke is also a member of the College's grant and groan department. He wrestles for Loyola in one of the middle weight classes.

John may not hit the headlines nor have his name in print as often as other Greyhound soccer performers, but you can be assured that Coach Baker and the Loyola fans have as much respect for his ability as they do for any other member of the Hound squad.

Coach Bill McElroy talks over the coming cross-country season with Harryer Captain Jack Brunk.

Greyhound Harriers
Prep For Opener

by John Mercaldo

Loyola's cross-country team is running through its paces in preparation for the rapidly approaching season opener here at Evergreen. And once again the squad is being led by a trio of returnees, headed by George Brown.

Coach Bill McElroy seemed enthused with the return of Brown but is still of the opinion, "We will not be as strong as last year."

Loss Of Rodney Will Be Felt

This quote is no doubt caused by the loss of George Rodney, who, besides being a consistent winner all last season, also captured first place in the Mason-Dixon Tournament. The tournament, which was won by Rowanoke College, was run over the Gallaudet College course. We probably would not have attained our four won and two lost record of last year without the great running of George Brown, whose example and fight had much influence on his teammates.

Kimmerlein And Brunk Return

Brown returns along with the promising George Kimmerlein, who has been developing under the guidance of Coach McElroy. Captain Jack Brunk rounds out the trio of veterans.

Another bright spot comes in the news that three runners, Tom Valtile, Joe Paszek and Bill Robertson, have enrolled in Loyola from Polytechnic Institute along with a transfer from Maryland, Joe Ohrlander.

Hounds To Seek Revenge

If these newcomers provide the necessary kick, we should be strong contenders for the conference title.

The Greyhounds will be shooting for a revenge victory over the strong squads of St. Joe of Philadelphia and Georgetown University.

Meets Today

Franny Meagher, president of the Block L Club, has announced that a meeting of the association will be held today, Friday, Sept. 23, at 2:30 P.M. in the Gymnasium.

The primary object of the meeting, as pointed out by Franny, will be the election of officers for the 1949-50 season.

Larger Film Library Wanted

Another feature of the year's first meeting will be a discussion concerning the raising of funds for the support and the enlargement of the college's Sports Film Library.

Likewise, plans and ideas for a Halloween dance or party will be discussed by the members.

Monthly Socials In Question

The proxy also indicated that the floor will be opened to a discussion on the possibility of reinstating a monthly social event sponsored by the group.

Last but not least, the annual Frosh-Soph athletic contest, which determines whether or not the "Pups" continue to be hazed and which in all likelihood would be held under the direction of Block L members, will be considered by the society.

All members are requested to attend, if they possibly can, and to take part in the discussions.

Intramurals

Intramurals Slated To Start;
Tennis and Football Planned

Touch Football

Campus intramural football is on the way. Loyola's one-hand touch variety, which sounds less brutal than the popular collegiate type, but often requires more endurance, is scheduled again this fall.

Athletic Director Emil Reltz, who will supervise intramurals personally this year, informed us recently that this year's gridiron will be lined off parallel to the soccer field. This will be the same location as was used two years ago. Goal posts will be erected again with a view toward more scoring.

All football team entries must be presented in the Athletic Office on or before Wednesday, September 28. League play will open on Monday, October 3.

Tennis

Tuesday, September 27, marks the opening day of the annual Fall Intramural Singles Tournament. All entries for the tourney must be in by Friday, September 23.

The intramural slugs crown is vacant and waiting to be fitted upon the head of a new champ. This situation is effected by the fact that last year's champ, John Darrell, is now a member of Loyola's varsity tennis squad.

Horseshoes

Horseshoe tourney entries must be made by Friday, September 30. Play will begin on Tuesday, October 4.

As in previous years, pits will be located in the northeast corner of the athletic field and students may obtain horseshoes from the equipment room in the gym.

There is a new Athletic Department ruling in regards to the borrowing of equipment. Because of the fact that the department suffered a serious financial loss by the failure of students to return equipment and towels, the following stipulation has been put into effect: "Equipment available for student use will be loaned at the rate of 25 cents per item. The amount will be refunded when the item is returned to the equipment room. The penalty for keeping the aforementioned items overnight shall be 25 cents."

Entrance Procedure

Entries for intramural sports must be made on the proper forms supplied by the Athletic Director. These forms may be obtained from the large bulletin board in the basement of the gym. The forms must be completed in full and returned to the intramural mail box which is located on the equipment room door.

No individual or team will be considered eligible until these forms have been accurately received.

Members of Fall Intercollegiate teams (Cross-country, Soccer, Basketball, either Varsity, B Squad or Freshmen) are not eligible for Fall Intramurals.

Each player may be a member of one squad only; once the season has begun, no signed member of one squad may switch to another squad. Violation of eligibility rule may result in forfeiture of games in which an ineligible man participated.

Touch Rules

(Please note the several important changes in this year's code of rules. All rules and regulations not herein provided for will be governed by the International Football Rules of 1949.)

1. The official field upon which the game shall be played will be 80 yards in length, and 40 yards in width; marked at 20 yard intervals with lines parallel to the goal line.
2. The game shall be played by two teams of nine men each, with one of the men serving as "Acting Captain." The Offensive team must have five men on the line and four men in the backfield. Defensive team's position will be optional.
3. Official shoes shall be regulation gym shoes. No cleats are permitted and no regulation football gear will be used.
4. All games must start within 10 minutes after time posted on schedule.
5. The game shall be played in two periods of 20 minutes each, with a 5 minute rest period between halves. Each team shall be entitled to 2 time-outs of 1 minute each half without a penalty. There shall be no time-out during the last five minutes of the game unless called by the referee because of an injury to a player.
6. Rules for scoring shall be the same as regular football.
7. Scoring for Standing in League shall be as follows: Win—5 pts; Tie—3 pts; Loss—0.
8. The Home team shall have the choice at the beginning of the game to kick-off, or receive, or position on the field. The Home team may elect to do only one of the above three choices. At the beginning of the 2nd half, the visiting team will have the choice of kicking or receiving. The position of the teams on the field will automatically change at the beginning of the 2nd half.
9. The Kick-off shall be made from the kicking team's 20 yd. line. Receiving team must line-up behind their 40 yd. line.
 - a. The Kick-off may be either placement or punt. A kick-off ball that goes out of bounds beyond the 20 yd. line shall be brought up to the 20 yd. line of the receiving team.
10. The team receiving a kick-off or kick may throw a forward pass if they catch the ball before it touches the ground. However the pass must not be thrown from a point forward of where it was caught. PENALTY—loss of ball at spot where caught.
 - a. The team receiving a kick-off or punt may RUN with the ball if it touches the ground before the receiver gains possession of the ball, but the receiver may not pass the ball FORWARD.
11. The ball shall be dead whenever it touches the ground, whether by a fumble or by incomplete forward, lateral, backward pass, or by a pass from the center. Exception in Rule—2 above. It shall also be dead when a player in possession of the ball has been touched by an opponent on any part of his clothing or body. It shall also be dead if any part of the carrier's body, except his two

'47 Pinsters Take Lead In Alumni Bowling Wheel

The '47's turned back the '49's three times to take the league lead as the Alumni Keglers rang in the new year at the Plaza Bowling Alleys Tuesday, September 13.

Charlie Reis of the Jan. '43 quintet rolled the high set, a 339, while Chas Lerch brought the '44-'45 aggregation a bit of recognition with his high single of 140.

Roster Increases

League chairman Joe Burns is well pleased with the turnout this year. He has an all time high of nine teams, two more than last year. The new arrangement allows a bye for each team every nine weeks, a much steadier pace than was possible under the seven team system.

The field includes two newcomers, Jim Mitchell's '49-ers and Tom Stonaker's '50 squad. The 1950 class is the first undergraduate class to be so honored.

Feeley Returns

The Jan. '43 team rolled well but experienced a late start in the league race, having drawn a bye the first night. Captain George Miller missed Carroll Feeley, last season's individual champion, at the opener but expects him to be on hand for team competition next week. Carroll finished the season with a 103.26 average for 66 games.

It is interesting to note that Carroll shared his first prize with the very worthy no. 2 man, Joe Donohue, who was just .05 of a point behind Feeley, with 103.21 for 99 games. Joe did well by his '40 team in the opener by rolling 323 for third high set.

Kaltenbach, Miller Elected

To aid Chairman Burns in matters of record and to keep the league in the black, the group elected Doc Kaltenbach as Secretary and George Miller as Treasurer.

Doctor Kaltenbach's '42 team, George Gay's Oct. '43 squad, Joe Gessler's '44-'45 aggregation and Jim Turner's '48-ers, together with those already mentioned, round out the nine-team circuit.

As a whole the big brother league is shaping up. Some are howling superior; some are bowling well; and some are just howling. However, there's a long season ahead and doubtless the old men will be rounding into condition before many months.

- feet, should touch the ground.
12. The team in possession of the ball shall have four tries (downs) to advance the ball to the next 20-yd. stripe.
13. A player may lateral or backward pass at any time he has possession of the ball, but he may forward pass only when he is behind the scrimmage line.
14. All field kicks may be kicked from any position on the field.
 - a. The ball shall be put in play on the 10-yd. line for the try for point after touchdown. The ball must be kicked from behind the 20-yd. stripe.
15. Punts crossing the opponent's goal line will be brought out to the 20-yd. line when downed.
16. A team may pass across the opponent's goal line and not lose possession of the ball, if the pass is grounded. Exception: A pass on the fourth down, the ball goes to the opposing team on their 20-yd. line.
17. Every player on the offensive team shall be eligible to receive a forward, lateral, or backward pass.

18. A lateral, backward, or forward pass that is grounded after completion of a forward pass shall not be considered as part of the original play. The ball will stay in possession of the team that threw the pass.

Offenses And Penalties

1. Off-side—Penalty—5 yards. Except for the offensive team in the last 5 minutes of the game; the penalty shall be the loss of the ball.
2. Tripping, Pushing, Deliberate body block (block below the knees). Screen or shoulder block permissible. Penalty—10 yards and loss of down for offensive team. 10 yards for Defensive team.
3. Backfield illegally in motion. Penalty—5 yards.
4. Unsportsmanlike conduct and unnecessary roughness. Penalty—Half the distance to the distance to the goal and expulsion from the game.

Leimkuhler Plans Layout For '50 Evergreen Annual

"In order to facilitate an equal distribution of work among the members of the staff," says Ferdinand F. Leimkuhler, editor of the Evergreen Annual, "we are adopting a different sectional makeup from that of previous years."

The first part of the publication will be devoted to first semester events followed by the January class roster.

Includes Second Term

A summary of second-semester activities, along with the May and July classes, faculty photographs, and a synopsis of athletic activities will comprise the second part of the yearbook.

A large staff will handle photographic, literary and business chores under the direction of Rev. Joseph A. d'Invernizzi, S.J., Business Manager John Stegmerten, Sports Editor Robert Bonbrun, Photography Editor Oliver Krustell and Events Editor Alan Tustlu will be the principle assistants to Leimkuhler.

Begins During Summer

Actual work on the annual was begun during the summer when senior portraits were taken and solicitations for advertising commenced.

In addition to the new policy, the book will feature summer tuxedo dress for the senior portraits and will devote a longer space to graduate writeups.

The budget and size of the publication will remain the same as last year.

As is traditional, the annual will be distributed free of charge to all Loyola students. Funds for the book will be raised through advertising returns and from the activities fee pool.

Three Lay Teachers Added To Faculty Staff

There have been three new additions to the lay faculty for the coming year according to word received from the Dean's Office. One of these, Mr. Alphonse T. Pletschette, who will teach Modern Languages, is the author of a Passion Play which was staged in a great outdoor arena at Luxembourg.

Mr. Hansford Lee Farris, Jr., who will teach Classical Literature and Speech at Loyola, is a graduate of the University of Texas where he received his Bachelor of Arts Degree.

Mr. Harry A. Durney, Jr., instructor in Chemistry at Loyola, received his Master of Arts Degree at Johns Hopkins University where he had previously taught chemistry.

Mr. Pletschette received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from Luxembourg State College where he also taught. He was also an instructor at College St. Jacques.

Fall Quarterly To Feature Variety

The call is out to all adherents of literature as the Evergreen Quarterly, the literary magazine of Loyola College, goes to press for the Fall issue.

The publication will feature such manuscripts as the fantasies of Donald M. Schwartz, the lyric poetry of Clifford M. Near, and sundry contributions from George A. Herman.

Revised In 1947

In 1947 the Quarterly was engrossed in a period of transition, the change from the commercial style of make-up to serious literature and divisional typography, the separation of prose, poetry, and art.

Under the editorship of William A. Heffner the spring issue of the magazine contained some lively revolutionary poems by Courtney Johnson, Jr., and J. S. Dagblatts. Along with these was printed a translation of a poem of F. Garcia Lorca by J. Serlinger.

Serlinger, McManus Edit

At present the staff consists of J. Serlinger, literary editor, and David McManus, managing editor.

There is a need for artists as the magazine will feature in the Art Department ink sketches rather than photography.

Cafeteria Has New Manager

A new manager, Mr. Perry Wenger, has assumed the responsibilities of running the Slater system Cafeteria. Mr. Wenger assumed his duties two weeks ago.

"At the present time I anticipate no major changes in the cafeteria," he says, "but I will try to maintain the standard of service of the Slater system in the coming year."

One other addition has been made to the staff. Miss Frances Nedrow will serve in the capacity of office girl.

The Snack Bar, which was closed during the Spring Term, has been reopened this Fall. Procedure in the Snack Bar will also be the same as of last year.

Annual Proofs Due Sept. 25

Ferdinand F. Leimkuhler, editor of the Loyola yearbook Evergreen, has announced that the proofs of the senior portraits will be mailed to the seniors before the week of September 25.

The proofs must be returned to the photographer during that week. Announcement will be made as to where they should be returned.

Rackensperger and Lelli Enter Religious Orders

Francis X. Rackensperger of the Class of January '49 has entered the Novitiate of O.F.M. Conventual at Lake Forest, Illinois. Rackensperger began his noviceship last month.

While at Loyola Rackensperger was an honor student. His sister, Mrs. James Crowder, is employed in the Treasurer's Office at Loyola.

Raymond M. Lelli of the Class of July '49 entered the Society of Jesus August 14. He is now at the St. Isaac Jogues Novitiate at Wernersville, Pa.

Laroque Plays Summer Tennis

Jerry Laroque, captain of the Loyola net team spent his summer vacation competing in several local and out-of-town tournaments.

Although failing to win top honors in any of these tourneys, Laroque performed well and gained valuable experience by playing some of the top netmen in this section of the country. In the Mt. Washington tournament he advanced to the semifinals.

Loses To Askin

Laroque started his summer grind at Clifton Park with The Evening Sun competition. Here, the little fellow from Evergreen gave second-seeded Nate Askin three hard-fought sets before losing 3-6, 7-5 and 6-3 in one of the tournament's hardest matches.

Teaming with his Greyhound squadmate, Jim Lacy, in the doubles event, he lost to the seeded tandem of Keller and Fox in a first-round match.

Plays In York

Jerry then traveled to York, Pa., where he bowed in the quarter-finals to the Franklin and Marshall College's star, Bob Zink.

Rogers and Clarke Attend ASN National Convention

Daniel Rathon was elected president of the ASN Alumni Club of Baltimore September 18. Other officers include vice-president William Meyer, secretary John Pugh, and treasurer Charles Hemelt. Named to the Board of Directors were retiring president Barkley Fritz, George McManus and George Miller. James Bowen was inducted into the chapter at the same meeting.

Edward O. Clarke, Jr., represented the active Loyola College Chapter at the Alpha Sigma Nu Convention at Marquette University, September 7-10, the first meeting in seven years due to the war.

Also present was William Rogers, delegate from the Alumni Club of Baltimore, who was elected vice-president of ASN for the coming two years.

Attends Law School

Rogers is a graduate of Loyola in the Class of 1948 and is currently attending the University of Maryland Law School.

The convention announced plans to reorganize and revitalize ASN Alumni Clubs throughout the country. The Baltimore Alumni Club is expected to play a predominant part in this program, since there are only three active clubs in the United States today.

Elect Members Annually

Alpha Sigma Nu is an honor society for students in Jesuit Colleges in the United States. Once a year new members are elected to the Society.

Membership in ASN is determined on a basis of scholarship, service and loyalty.

Every Jesuit College in the United States having an ASN chapter was represented at the Milwaukee convention. Faculty delegates were also present from Fordham University and Boston College which are currently in the process of organizing chapters.

The convention announced that Alpha Sigma Nu in the future will support Catholicism, and particularly Jesuit, education through the Alumni Clubs to a greater degree than has been exercised to date.

Edward O. Clarke, Jr., is president of the Loyola Chapter of Alpha Sigma Nu.

Junior Sodality States Plans For Fall Term

With the Rev. Joseph A. d'Invilliers, S.J., replacing Mr. John J. Burns, S.J., as moderator, Junior Sodality activities will begin with a Communion Breakfast at the Hotel Stafford on Sunday, October 2.

Mr. Burns has been transferred to Catholic University, where he will continue his study of Chemistry.

Council Plans

During the summer the Central Council, composed of Prefect George Strohecker, Vice-Prefect Edward Pula, Secretary Richard Cailigan, Treasurer John O'Connor, committee chairman Vincent Brocato, Michael Clinquergan, Daniel Downey, Lawrence Rodowsky, Joseph Serlo and Neale Smith has organized a comprehensive outline of Sodality activities for the coming year.

Several outstanding features of the program are enterprises which will include a Living Rosary, a Reparation Society, a party for orphaned children on November 11, including representations of Loyola Night and lectures and displays during Catholic Book Week.

During December and January there will be a tridium of Masses and Communions to be sent to the Holy Father, a Christmas toy drive for orphans and a Christmas record dance for the Junior Sodality.

Adopt Mission Plans

An innovation in Sodality activities is the adoption of a Mission for a Polish student for the priesthood.

Sodality activities for the second term will be announced in a later issue of THE GREYHOUND.

The Summer School of Catholic Action, conducted by the National Sodality Council at Fordham University from August 15 to August 23, was attended by Strohecker, Pula, Cailigan and Senior Sodality Prefect Edward McNeal.

Fr. Davish Assumes Duties In Library and Religion

by George M. Strohecker

Rev. William M. Davish, S.J.

"I couldn't have picked a more pleasing job," says the Rev. William Martin Davish, S.J., who was appointed librarian at Loyola College this year. He went on to say that Loyola has an excellent, well-integrated library managed by an efficient staff.

Fr. Davish is a native of Philadelphia, where he attended St. Joseph's High School. After graduation he worked for two years in a bakery before entering the Jesuit novitiate, St. Andrew-on-Hudson, in 1933.

Studied At Intisfada

After leaving St. Andrew's, he studied at Intisfada, Manhasset, Long Island and Woodstock College, Woodstock, Maryland.

He began teaching at St. Joseph's High School in 1940, conducting classes in religion, English and the classics until 1943.

Fr. Davish then returned to Woodstock to begin his studies in theology. After four years he was ordained and then transferred to Catholic University where he majored in library science until 1948.

Began Library Work

Fr. Davish first assumed the duties of librarian at the Shrine of the North American Martyrs, in Auriesville, New York. At the same time he studied Ascetical Theology there.

He was appointed to Evergreen this summer. In addition to his duties as librarian, Fr. Davish is also teaching freshman religion.

Fr. Beatty Named Secretary Of Jesuit Scientific Society

The Rev. Vincent F. Beatty, S.J., instructor of chemistry at Loyola, was named Secretary of the American Association of Jesuit Scientists for 1949-50 at their 24th Annual Convention, last month at Fordham U.

Fr. Beatty taught Chemistry and was moderator of the Sodality from 1940 to 1943, at which time he entered Woodstock College to study theology.

He was ordained a priest in 1947.

Besides his duties as instructor of first year chemistry at Loyola, Fr. Beatty is moderator of the Sophomore Vigilance Committee. He is also Student Counselor for Freshman Business and Science students besides teaching elementary mathematics.

Cadigan Attends NSA Caucus

Richard Cadigan, of the Class of June '52, represented Evergreen at the National Students Association Convention at the University of Illinois in Champagne, Illinois, the last week of August.

Cadigan succeeds Edward McNeal as senior delegate from Loyola to the students association. Larry Rodowski, June '52, has been appointed junior delegate from Evergreen.

477 Delegates Attend

Attending the Champagne convention were 477 delegates, representing over one million students from the United States, its territories and possessions.

Loyola College is a member of the Mason-Dixon delegation to the National Students Association. The Mason-Dixon representatives control a bloc of 11 votes.

The principal and most controversial topic of discussion before the assembly was the question "Should the National Students Association merge completely with the Soviet-dominated International Union of Students?"

Defeat Unity Measure

This resolution was defeated on the floor but the members later voted for affiliation on a nonpolitical basis by a margin of 205-177.

Students' Rights was another question put before the convention. The New York delegation contested that a student has the right to strike whenever student opinion feels drastic measures are necessary. This resolution was tabled for next year's convention.

Reds Can Teach

The delegates also resolved that a teacher should not be restrained from teaching if he has Communist leanings since his political views "could not affect his teaching."

Principal result of the NSA convention was substantially the same as last year: the NSA will cooperate with IUS on a nonpolitical basis.
